MUSICA EST DONUM

ISSN 2369-1581

- Musica Est Donum (music is a gift), is a peer-reviewed, open-access journal published on a rolling basis per calendar year.
- We invite submissions that critically describe and celebrate the extraordinary role that music plays in our daily lives.
- In particular, MED encourages articles that promote the educational, social, cultural, economic, political, religious, and psychological aspects of musical experiences.
- Generally speaking, musical experiences are rooted in the passive and active consumption of music, as well as the creative process involved in the composition and/or performance of music.
- MED publishes articles in a variety of scholarly formats, including original research, opinion papers, general discussions, book reviews, and selected creative works (musical compositions/arrangements, visual art, film, fictional narratives, etc.).
